

Archaeology & Anthropology Journal

Call for Papers Vol.25

Archaeology and Anthropology Journal is a peer reviewed open access journal publishing articles, reports and book reviews. Though the journal's primary focus is the archaeology and anthropology of Guyana—contributions relating to the Caribbean and Northern Amazonian areas are welcomed. The journal is published once a year in November. Contributions may be submitted at any time prior to August 1st 2022. The journal is published cooperatively by the University of Guyana, Amerindian Research Unit and the Department of Anthropology, Boise State University as the Journal of the Walter Roth Museum of Anthropology.

Submissions

Articles should be submitted online to the Co-Editor at mplew@boisestate.edu. Upon review and acceptance authors are required to electronically submit their manuscripts in Microsoft Word. It is the responsibility of authors to insert illustrative materials and tables into texts. Titles and headings should be formatted in Calibri, Bold, 12 pt. The body of the text should be Cambria, 11 pt. referencing should be done in APA format.

Style Sheet

Archaeology and Anthropology generally conforms to the style sheet of Plains Anthropologist.

Back Issues

Back Issues can be downloaded electronically form: <https://www.boisestate.edu/anthropology-archaeologyandanthropology/>

Inquiries

Should you have any questions about the manuscripts and submission process, please contact

1. Professor Mark G. Plew at mplew@boisestate.edu or
2. Louisa B. Dagers at louisa.dagers@uog.edu.gy

Editorial Information

- CO-editor: Louisa B. Dagers, University of Guyana
- CO-editor: Mark G. Plew, Boise State University

